Reading Part 3 (Questions 11–15)

Read the text and answer questions 11–15.

Sixteen-year-old Theo has always been fascinated by insects. While his friends were playing football, Theo was often in the garden, camera in hand, looking for bees or spiders. Last year, he decided to start a blog called 'Tiny Neighbors' to share his photos and stories.

"I didn't expect many people to read it," Theo admits. "I just wanted a place to keep my photos organized. But within a month, I had hundreds of followers from all over the world. It was amazing to see that so many people were interested in the small creatures living right under our feet."

Theo's blog isn't just about pretty pictures. He also writes about the importance of protecting the environment. "People often worry about big animals like lions or pandas," says Theo, "but the insects in our gardens are just as important for the planet. If we lose them, the whole system breaks down."

Recently, a local magazine asked Theo to write a regular column. He was nervous at first, as he had never written for a professional publication before. However, the experience has given him more confidence. He now hopes to study biology at university and continue his work as a photographer. "I want to show people that you don't need to travel to a rainforest to see incredible wildlife," he explains. "You just have to look closer."

11. What is Theo doing in the text?

- A explaining how to take professional photos of insects
- B describing how his hobby became surprisingly popular
- C complaining about the lack of interest in the environment
- D encouraging people to travel more to see wildlife

12. Why did Theo start his blog 'Tiny Neighbors'?

- A He wanted to help his friends learn about nature.
- B He was hoping to become a famous photographer.
- C He needed a way to arrange his photography collection.
- D He wanted to make money from his hobby.

13. What does Theo say about insects in the third paragraph?

- A They are more beautiful than large animals like lions.
- B They are essential for the health of the environment.
- C They are easier to protect than pandas.
- D People find them more frightening than they should.

14. How did Theo feel about writing for the magazine?

- A He was worried because he wasn't used to it.
- B He felt it was a waste of his time.
- C He was excited to finally get paid for his work.

D He thought it would be easier than writing his blog.

15. Which of these would be a message Theo might send to a friend?

- A I'm planning a trip to the rainforest to find some rare insects for my blog.
- B I'm so glad people are finally noticing the wildlife in their own gardens.
- C I wish I had more time to play football with everyone instead of blogging.
- D I've decided to stop taking photos and focus only on my biology studies.

Reading Part 4 (Questions 16–20)

Five sentences have been removed from the text. Choose the correct sentences (A–H) to fill gaps 16–20.

In many big cities around the world, a green revolution is happening on rooftops and balconies. People who live in small apartments are finding creative ways to grow their own vegetables and flowers. (16) _____. This activity is known as urban gardening, and its popularity has grown significantly in recent years.

One major reason for this trend is a desire for healthier food. Many city dwellers want to know exactly where their vegetables come from and how they were grown. (17) _____. By growing their own tomatoes or lettuce, they can be sure that no harmful chemicals were used.

However, urban gardening is not just about food. It also has a positive effect on people's mental health. Spending time caring for plants allows individuals to relax and escape from the stress of city life. (18) _____. Even a small balcony with a few pots can become a peaceful place to spend an afternoon.

Of course, gardening in a city brings some challenges. Space is often very limited, and it can be difficult to get enough sunlight. (19) _____. Vertical gardens, where plants are grown on walls instead of the floor, are becoming a common sight in many neighborhoods.

As more people join this movement, cities are becoming greener and more beautiful. (20) _____. It seems that the future of our cities might be much greener than we once imagined.

Sentences A–H

- A. They often use old plastic bottles or wooden boxes as containers.
- B. This is why many people have decided to give up gardening altogether.
- C. This leads to a sense of calm that is often missing in busy urban areas.
- D. To solve this, many people have started using clever new methods.
- E. They are also worried about the environment and want to reduce waste.
- F. These green spaces also help to lower the temperature during hot summers.
- G. It is much more expensive than buying food from a local supermarket.
- H. They are turning every available centimetre of space into a garden.

Listening Transcripts

Part 1 (Q1-7)

Q1. Which sport are the friends going to do today?

Boy: It's such a sunny day! Shall we go to the park for a game of tennis?
Girl: I'd love to, but I've got a sore arm, so I can't hold the racket.
Boy: Oh, what about football then?
Girl: Actually, my brother has taken the ball. Why don't we just head to the pool? A cool swim sounds perfect in this heat.
Boy: Good idea. Let's go.

Q2. What did the woman leave on the bus?

Woman: Excuse me, I think I left something on the number 10 bus earlier.
Staff: Was it a handbag? A black one was found this morning.
Woman: No, I have mine right here. I thought I might have left my umbrella because it started raining, but I just found that in my car. It must be my sunglasses. I remember taking them off when I got on the bus.

Q3. What time will the meeting start?

Man: Is the meeting still at half past two?
Woman: It was supposed to be, but Mr Jenkins is running late from another appointment. He asked if we could push it back by fifteen minutes.
Man: That's fine. I thought it might be delayed until quarter to three, so that's not too bad. See you then.

Q4. Where will they meet after school?

Girl: Are we still meeting outside the school gate at four?
Boy: I was going to, but it's supposed to rain later. We could meet in the library instead.
Girl: I'm not sure it stays open that late.
Boy: You're right. Actually, the sports centre café is open until six, and it's just next to the bus stop.
Girl: Perfect. Let's meet there.

Q5. Which present will the boy buy for his sister?

Woman: What are you getting your sister for her birthday?
Boy: I wanted to buy her a scarf, but she said she already has too many.
Woman: What about a book? She loves reading.
Boy: True, but she told me she really needs new headphones for her phone. So I'll get those.

Q6. When is the class trip to the museum?

Teacher: Remember, our trip to the museum is this week.
Student: I thought it was on Monday.
Teacher: It was, but the museum is closed then. So we moved it to Wednesday.
Student: Great—at least it's not Friday when we have the test.

Q7. What will the girl do next?

Boy: You look stressed. What's wrong?
Girl: My laptop won't turn on. I was going to take it to the shop.
Boy: Maybe you should call a technician first.
Girl: I did, but they said they can't come today. Actually, I'll email my teacher now to explain why I might hand in the work late.

Part 2 (Q8-13)Q8. You will hear two friends talking about a new cafe. What do they agree about?

Girl: Have you been to that new cafe on Bridge Street yet?

Boy: Yeah, I went yesterday. The sandwiches were pretty average for the price, to be honest.

Girl: I know what you mean, though the staff were really helpful and quick. What I really liked was the cool, new furniture and the bright colors.

Boy: Definitely! It's much better than the old-fashioned place that was there before.

Q9. You will hear a girl talking to her friend about a school project. How does she feel about it?

Boy: How's the history project going, Sarah? We have to hand it in on Friday.

Girl: I'm not concerned about the time—we've nearly finished. But I'm still not quite sure what Mr Jones wants us to include in the final part. He explained it twice, but I'm still a bit lost.

Boy: Don't worry, I'll show you my notes later.

Q10. You will hear two friends talking about a film they saw. What did the man like most about it?

Woman: That was a great movie, wasn't it? The ending was so surprising!

Man: Really? I thought it was a bit predictable. And the special effects were nothing special compared to other films. However, I couldn't believe how good the lead actor was. He made the whole character feel so real.

Woman: You're right, he was brilliant.

Q11. You will hear a student talking about a new phone. What is she most pleased with?

Boy: So, did you finally buy that new phone?

Girl: Yes! I thought it would be too expensive, but the shop had a discount, so the price was fine.

Boy: And the camera?

Girl: It's good, but what I'm happiest about is the battery. It lasts all day, even when I watch videos.

Q12. You will hear two friends talking about their weekend. What do they decide to do?

Girl: Do you want to go to the cinema on Saturday?

Boy: Maybe, but there's nothing I really want to see.

Girl: Then we could visit the museum.

Boy: We did that last weekend. Actually, the weather forecast is great—why don't we go cycling by the river?

Girl: Yes! That sounds much better.

Q13. You will hear a boy talking about an exam. How does he feel now?

Girl: You didn't look happy after the exam yesterday.

Boy: I was annoyed at first because I couldn't answer one question.

Girl: Oh no.

Boy: But then I remembered it was only worth one mark. I'm not disappointed anymore—honestly, I feel relieved that it's finally over.

Part 3 (Q14–19)

Speaker: Hello everyone! I'm here to tell you about the new City Sports Club. The club is located in the H-A-R-L-O-W Building, just behind the central library. We are excited to announce that we will officially open on the 21st of March.

We have a wide range of facilities, but our most popular feature is the new diving lessons in the deep pool. If you are a student, you can get a monthly membership for just £18.50. That's a great deal!

Please remember that the club doesn't provide any equipment, so everyone must bring their own towel for the showers. If you have any questions, please call our office at 01223 584 902. See you there!

Part 4 (Q20-25)

Interviewer: Today I'm speaking to Maya, a young fashion designer who runs an eco-friendly clothing brand. Maya, why did you start your own brand?

Maya: I've always loved fashion, but I was shocked by the waste in the industry. I felt I had to prove that you could make trendy outfits without hurting the planet.

Interviewer: What was the hardest thing at the beginning?

Maya: Designing was the easy part. The real struggle was persuading manufacturers to take a chance on a young designer like me.

Interviewer: How do you feel about the materials you use now?

Maya: I'm really pleased with how soft they feel. Customers mention it all the time.

Interviewer: When you got your first big order, how did you feel?

Maya: My first thought was, 'How am I going to produce five hundred jackets in a month?' I barely slept, so I was worried about the deadline.

Interviewer: Any advice for young people?

Maya: Focus on making one product truly great first.

Interviewer: What's your main goal for next year?

Maya: To reach more customers in other countries.
